

graphics don't load properly

Posted by nooyawka - 2010/08/23 10:38

Rarely get graphics on Blogger blogs. Spotty on WP blogs . Sometimes yes, sometimes no. Most of the time when I try to update a feed on Autoblogging Software the system stops cold while trying to load graphics. I turn off ABS, turn on again, but still get struck. Help.

I think the software gets stuck while posting images when the image' file name has some special characters. I will be fixing it to remove special characters by renaming it so it works fine. Will publish the update later this week.

Also, in case of Blogger.com, please check if you have the right FTP information entered. You could send the FTP settings to my email SupportCartyStudios.com and I will verify it for you.

Regards,
Carty..
