I just checked the post in the above link and the image seems to be fine there. Anyway, I did fix some image posting issues recently. Please download the file <http://www.WebMagnates.org/ABS-Patch.zip> and Unzip the contents into your install folder (C:\Program Files\CartyStudios Corp.WebMag..) overwriting the old ones there. There try making some posts and tell me if it works fine.

Regards,
Carty..

If I understand correctly, some posts grab images but not all? Does that happen on particular feed or mixed? If happens just for on particular feeds, please give me an example feed url so I could check it out here.

Carty..

For the moment I'm building blogger blogs. Image won't appear when published, both when I use upload or URL link. Have to manually edit the post. I'm reading about using FTP to upload images for blogger blogs but can't seem to find detailed info anywhere on here. Video would be great. Any help/ideas?

Thanks

I just noticed that in some blogs where images are inserted with relative url like (/images/..) instead of (domainname.com/images/..), the software did not download them.

I have fixed the issue now and published an update. Please open the software and proceed with auto update feature. Tell me how it goes then.

Regards,
Carty..

I mean, after updating, please try updating the feed. The change will be applied only to the articles that are downloaded further. Or better yet, edit the feed and save it once. This will make it download all the articles again.

Tell me how it goes.

Regards,

Carty..

You can try manual update method:

Download: <http://www.webmagnates.org/corporate/absfw/ABS-Update.zip>
Unzip the file and copy contents to the software' install folder (C:Program FilesCartyStudios Corp.WebMag..) overwriting the old ones there.

Then open the software and it should be updated.

Carty..

So on default the software also grabs images from the RSS feeds? Or should I change the settings for this to happen?

In the plugins list of Carty I see a FlickrRSS feed, is this required to grab images or is this purely for Flickr images.

I thought the ABS software could only grab text, but as I read the previous posts it grabs images in that feed also. If I understand that correctly and the software grabs images, how do things work out with copyright on them?

I am able to successfully add the image in the software but after I post to my blog I couldn't see the image in the blog.
