I forget to ask this...

Could we implement ABS in our main domain..? if we want to create many subdomain (e.g 20-25 subdomains) from 1 main domain...so how much space should we have in our hosting..?

Hope my question is clear enough. Thank you. Wait for your quick reply.

Yes of course you can have ABS post on your blogs installed both on main domain as well as on sub-domains. Typically you would require about 100-200 MB per WP blog. 2-3GB hosting space is enough for a collection of 25 sub-domains. Which hosting account are you using?

Nick, still wait for your kind guide for above question.

In the other hand, i would like to ask you about ABS. Say if i have choosen what i want to be posted to my blog..then i have clicked "Post All Marked Item"...Is this mean it will be done automatically and i can shut down my computer..? or i have to wait..? Please correct me if i'm wrong..and please kindly guide me. Thank you.

Regarding the related posts text, you must actually place the exact text that appears on the blog. Some blogs may not have the ':' at the end but by default the software shows 'Related Posts:' (with a colon). Please check and correct it from the feed settings.

Right, auto-en means, auto detect the language and translate it to English. Same for auto-en-es where after translating to English, it will then translate to Spanish.

When you press the "Post all marked items" button, all the posts that you have marked will get posted immediately and you can see the progress of posting in the status window available at the lower left corner of the software. Don't panic! They get posted immediately but will automatically be scheduled to be published on future dates as per the interval you have set and the rest is taken care by your blog. So yes, you can close the software and the posts will still get published at the set time.

Ok, it's so clear. Then i would like to ask you about the downloaded content...when i've tired it for several times..i see that some of the content was not being fully downloaded ... is it normal..? can i delete the feed then try to download it once again..?

Nick, i have marked (say 10 articles of a feed) and i scheduled it 3 post per day with interval 15 minutes..but when i go to the wp-login pages..and see the posting..i've found 3 same articles have been posted...how this can be happened..? have i done something wrong..?

About the "status window available at the lower left corner.." that is "Posting for : (feed named by us)" => should i wait for it until another text status ..? and what is the text..? because i have wait for it..but nothing changed :(

Wait for your quick reply.
Thanks.

Yes, the number of articles in the feed does not matter. The software will download all the articles available in that feed.

I wish the software would strip out html tags.....

ou preview needs some work, it should have a WYSIWYG editor for the price the software is...

Yes, I'm working on the WYSIWYG type of editor and you should get it done by next month this time. At the moment, the software strips out all html tags except and

tags to allow for paragraph spacing options. Looking at your image, I think you're using a wrong block of content. Which method of extraction have you used?

No, it's free, just register in this site so you could see the download. Once you find it and install it, maybe you can create a new thread here with short details on how you fixed it and also add the attachment so other could benefit.
