

Auto Blogging testing questions

Posted by alexreis - 2010/05/07 14:02

Hi,

I am testing the free trial, I created two blogs that have not yet been attached in google. It seems to me an interesting software, but i still need to see how it behaves in google ranking when attached.

My first question that I have are when the texts are posted on my blogs sometimes appear text not welcome like the comments, tags etc ... supposedly should not appear?

And the texts are copied in full from the original texts, is not possible to transform into a more original text?

Thanks

Obviously you cannot expect a fresh blog to secure first position ranking the very next day after starting.

By 'attached', you mean indexing in Google? Yes, it takes about a week or so and that is why I recommend doing a bit of social bookmarkings to speed things up. Since these posts are more or less like natural blog posts, you won't find any difference from a regular blog' ranking.

Blogger.com is notorious on deleting a few blogs (even the manually updated ones) for no reason. Maybe you made too many posts in a very short time span?
